

IREC Irrigation Technology Sub Committee Report

IREC Annual General Meeting – 2009

It's hard to believe another year has passed so quickly.

2009 has been a quiet year for the ITSC. We had planned two field days as in years past, but neither of these eventuated.

The first of these was to be the citrus netting field day, but due to problems with delivery of materials etc it was postponed and to date the idea has not been raised again.

With regards to the broad acre field day, I was attempting to organise a low pressure drip field day, but the supplier in town wished for another years data before showcasing and publicising the technology.

My opinion on IREC and ITSC has not changed- so if the rest of the committee wishes for this committee to continue I am happy for it to do so.

I wish all a Happy Christmas and I hope 2010 brings lots of rain and motivation with it.
