

Visit IREC on the Internet...

www.irec.org.au

The screenshot shows the IREC website homepage. At the top is the IREC logo and the text "IRRIGATION RESEARCH & EXTENSION COMMITTEE". Below this is a search bar. On the left, there is a photograph of an irrigated field with a water channel. To the right of the photo is the heading "IREC - a forum for irrigators" followed by a paragraph describing the committee's role. Below the paragraph is a bulleted list of activities. On the far right, there is a vertical navigation menu with buttons for "home", "about IREC", "events", "farm competition 2006", "news and information", "IREC projects", "farmers' newsletter", "research updates", "achievement award", "contact IREC", and "industry links". At the bottom left of the page, there is copyright information: "Copyright 2005 IREC. Site development and maintenance by TMLC web".

IREC welcomes your feedback

After you have had a look, tell us what you think of the site?

What else would you find useful on this site?

Feedback:

IREC Administration

T: 02 6960 1550

F: 02 6960 1562

E: irec@irec.org.au

The first screenshot shows the "Irrigation research updates" page. It features a photograph of a field and text explaining that IREC, in conjunction with the GRDC, hosts an annual seminar day for farmers. It also mentions that copies of papers from presentations are available on the website and provides links for "2006 updates" and "2005 updates". The navigation menu on the right is identical to the homepage.

The second screenshot shows the "IREC Farmers' Newsletter" page. It includes a photograph of a newsletter cover and text stating that the newsletter has been providing information since 1944. It describes the content as technical but clear, covering crop and management techniques. It also notes that electronic copies of articles published since 2005 are available on the website. The page lists two editions: "IREC Farmers' Newsletter, No. 171 - Summer 2006, Rice R&D Edition" and "IREC Farmers' Newsletter, No. 170 - Spring 2005, Large Area Edition". The navigation menu on the right is also present.